

Regulations, terms, conditions and payment policies for race registration

1. For the registration process the user must fill out the complete form, accept the terms and conditions, and make the payment by transfer, bank deposit or cash.
2. The final proof of registration will be sent to the email that the user places on the registration form. The receipt of this email by the user will be proof that the transaction was effective and that the user is officially registered in the event.
3. By enrolling in this event you accept that it is subject to modifications, either voluntary by the organizer or forced by natural phenomena (thunderstorms, floods, fires, hurricanes and others) or other force majeure actions such as strikes, police interventions, etc. The event is also subject to the total cancellation of the event for the reasons mentioned above.
4. The registration payment for this event is not refundable if it is canceled due to cause not attributable to the organizer.
5. The user accepts that all the information provided in the registration form is true and legitimate. Any error, omission or false data may lead to legal action against the user and / or the immediate disqualification of the event participant, without any liability or claim towards the organizer.
6. I expressly and voluntarily state that I accept and understand that I will participate under my total responsibility and risk, consequently, I release from any responsibility or obligation present or future, direct or indirect, subjective or objective, to the organizer, its representatives, employees, as well as to the other sponsors related to this event, of any claim, demand, action, loss, liability or obligation, of any nature, that the undersigned has submitted or may present, including but not limited to only these causes, the following: claims for injuries, death, illness, medical expenses, loss of personal items, complaints, lawsuits, damages or losses caused by, or to the other participants, all related to the event.
I am clear that the organizer is not responsible for the surveillance, protection and security of my person or my personal expenses, except those to which he expressly undertakes under this event. Likewise, I authorize the Organizer, for the use of my name and image for its promotion, advertising and marketing, without therefore having the right to receive or claim any financial compensation.
I understand and accept my full responsibility for any damage or harm caused to other participants, the Organizer or third parties, committing to repair it immediately.
7. To accept these conditions, click on the checkbox next to "I have read and accept/agree to the Regulations, Terms and Conditions". If you do not agree with these conditions, do not click on the checkbox.